CONCEPT

/'kän,sept/noun

an abstract idea; a general notion.

"structuralism is a difficult concept"

synonyms: idea, notion, conception, abstraction, conceptualization

Shall I compare thee
to a summer's day?
Or to the moon who shall never stay
For you shine brightly
upon my face
With the most effortless grace

I find no metaphors
for my love of you I'd pray to any god for anything so true
But the Indulgent
Venus holds more than myrtle
And my chest holds a heart, waiting and fertile

SACRIFICIAL

Blooming Heart

The sacrificial nature of a man who knows no bounds Is no longer than the heart that pounds Within that sunken chest of his More encompassing than the walls of Dis

For when one ends so does the other
And so along comes another
The sacrificial nature of man held fast and long Pasted to hands not nearly as strong

For nature knows no turns or evolution Even when bound in the soul of a human
The pulling of scars and the emptiness inside
Has nothing against the unbreakable Pride
That the sacrificial nature of man will provide
